Information on Driving or Flying to Labrador
for our 2011 Come Home Year Celebrations

Communities in Labrador are accessible year round by ROAD and AIR.

Travelling to Labrador for COME HOME YEAR Driving? Yes, we have a road connection!

You can drive EAST from Quebec or NORTH from Newfoundland into Labrador

You can drive EAST from Quebec to Labrador via routes 389/500 starting at Baie Comeau, Quebec (Via 389), traveling north east to Route 500 (we call it the Trans Labrador Highway) to Labrador City and Wabush and then east past Churchill Falls towards Goose Bay and North West River. The new road link (Route 510) is now complete between Goose Bay and Cartwright and on to the Labrador Straits. Travelers can continue their road trip directly to Newfoundland by the ferry crossing of the Strait of Belle Isle from Blanc Sablon, Quebec to the Island of Newfoundland year round.

Or if you are starting in Newfoundland, you can drive NORTH from the northern peninsula at St. Barbe, crossing the Strait of Belle Isle on the ferry, the Apollo, porting at Blanc Sablon Quebec - then you can drive the scenic Labrador Coastal Drive (Route 510) and visit all of the communities in the Labrador Straits and south coast, west into Happy Valley - Goose Bay, Churchill Falls and further on to Labrador City and south to Quebec.

When you travel in either direction, services are limited. Be sure to gas up on Route 389 at Manic 5, in Labrador City, in Churchill Falls, in Goose Bay, and in Port Hope Simpson. There are rest stops, accommodations, and, food at these locations too. Be sure to pack water, garbage container, snacks, toilet paper and BUG SPRAY for the drive!

This is mainly a gravel road, with paving and maintenance underway daily, so please drive carefully. Slow down when you see large vehicles or transport trucks approaching as gravel may spray and crack a windshield. Please ensure you have emergency supplies and a spare tire on board as the gravel can be sharp. We recommend heavier vehicles and 10 ply tires for travel on the Trans Labrador highway, but motorcycles and small cars have made the trip safely!

Beware of wildlife on the road including bears, moose, caribou, wolves, foxes, rabbits and birds. Do not feed the wildlife, and stay in your vehicle if you see wildlife - they can be unpredictable.

The only region not yet connected by road is the north coast of Labrador. Ferry service on the Northern Ranger is available via Goose Bay. There are also a few isolated communities that do not have road connections on the south coast and to Mud Lake in central Labrador.
